

I would like the FCC to assure that as the transition is made to DTV that all efforts are made to provide for community based broadcasters to obtain rights to broadcast. The airwaves belong to the public, and to assure that the public has access to every viewpoint, provision must be made to make those of the local community be heard, and that they do not have the budgets to bid for broadcast rights should not stand in their way.

Open up the airwaves to all, not just those with large budgets.

Thanks.
